On my site, I have several different posts like Craigslist Mailer 1.7.0.2 edu edition, then I have a similar post on my other site, but I only have one section title, whereas my other site's title includes "|" and "-" and "->" How do I create these separators? Categories Top Posters Followers Share It Feedjit In the new version of Craigslist Mailer, you can send as many emails as you want. You can also choose to upload an image for your email, instead of the default subject line. This article will describe how to upload an image as the subject line, and how to use the standard Craigslist mailer subject line generator. Creating the HTML So, we have a header, the subject line and the body text, but where do we put the pictures? Once you place the images where you want them, then we have to find them in the code. Now we put the location of the picture in the bgcolor attribute of the td tag. The width and height tags let the picture fit in the middle of the cell. If you want the picture to appear on a new line, you will have to do some code changes. We've put the script in the header, so we can get the subject line and the body from it. We can now get the subject line and the body text from our csv file. Note: If your CSV file is different, just change the variables in the script to match your CSV file. The rest is simple. We get the text from the input textboxes, then we
